EMS System (ESS-EMS, MG-EMS, x-EMS)

Characteristics:

- Also suitable for use in the Grid
- Control based on IED (Inverter)
- Control based on IED (Inverter)
- Energy Storage System (ESS) Operation

Development Environment:

- IED (Inverter) with IED (Inverter)
- IED (Inverter) with IED (Inverter)

Monitoring | IT based Gateway | Machine Learning based Algorithm

The diagram illustrates an EMS System architecture. It shows a central 'EMS System' box connected to a 'Storage System' (represented by a cylinder icon). Below this, an 'EMS Gateway' box is connected to various components: 'ESS' (Energy Storage System), 'MG' (Microgrid), 'x' (Other energy sources), and 'Grid'. The system is supported by three main pillars: 'Monitoring' (with a server rack icon), 'IT based Gateway' (with a smartphone icon), and 'Machine Learning based Algorithm' (with a graph icon).

Pexpo

Live video feed of a person wearing a headset and a white face mask. The person is looking down, possibly at a device. The background shows a virtual booth environment with a white wall and a ceiling with lights. There are three small video thumbnails in the top left corner, showing other participants in the virtual booth.
