BACKGROUND

Today's construction industry is a fertile ground for technology innovations and creativeness. Due to rapid urbanization and over population, overwhelming challenges are coming in, related to the human impact on climate change, natural resource limits and economic growth. Without improvements in the construction method and technology, the infrastructure development will not be sustainable for the country.

In addition to that, one of the mandates of the Government of Bangladesh is to enable a business friendly environment and in order to achieving that infrastructure development is relevant and essential. Therefore few visionary projects like elevated express highway, deep-sea port, Metro Rail Project, New International Airport are in pipeline. These projects offer huge prospect for construction industry in Bangladesh, due to implementation of these projects there will be an affluent in demand for construction materials construction tools and assistance. Bangladeshi construction industry has advanced a lot and producing international standard products that is full filling the local demands.

Positive macroeconomic fundamentals, including the impressive economic growth, government infrastructure projects including Padma Bridge and Payra Port, development of special economic zones, housing construction both in urban and rural areas, led by remittance inflow, and setting up of new industries indicate a "boom" in the construction material manufacturing sector. After the enormous success of the 10th BUILDEX 2025, we delighted to bring to you the 10th edition of BUILDEX 2025, scheduled to be held from 1-3 May 2025, in order to fostering the benefit of the entire construction industry. BUILDEX is truly a splendid showcase of the Safe & Sustainable Construction & Building Materials, Method, Equipment & Real Estate sectors in Bangladesh. BUILDEX is an exclusive B2B platform where different organizations from domestic and international market will gain access to demonstrate their products and solutions that will help to design and build safe and sustainable infrastructures.

In order to fostering the benefit of the aforementioned boom in construction industry the players of the industry intent to be ready with their best products and services. Besides, in this era, it is also important to stay connected to know about the competing and complementing services and solutions. Catering to the situation, BUILDEX aims to bring a new platform where different organization from domestic and international market will get the opportunity to demonstrate their products and solutions that will help to design and build safe and sustainable infrastructures. The event intends to promote new technologies and models which can be successfully integrated into urban systems as a perfect blend between environmental and economic concerns. BUILDEX also aims to strengthen B2B cooperation and experience exchange, inspiring policymakers, municipalities, practitioners and foreign investors involved in urban & rural development to search for new arenas for feasible projects realization
